Actor Was In Clutches of Highwaymen When Mounted Patrolman Arrived.

The mounted policeman rode through Central Park near the Central Drive early today he saw Edwin Horan, an actor of No. 129 Adelphi Street, Brooklyn, in the clutches of two men who were searching his pockets. The hold-up men ran, but after a lively chase through shrubbery Fine caught one. The other escaped.

The prisoner is John Ryan, twenty-one, of No. 145 West Sixty-second Street, who has served time in the House of Refuge and who is now out on a suspended sentence for robbery.

Magistrate Brown held Ryan in $1,500 bail at the West Side Court, where he pleaded not guilty. Horan, who had been held as a witness, was released.

BESIEGED MADMAN SHOOTS FIVE, THEN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Capt. Donley, Barricaded in Home, Fires on His Pursuers From Windows.

After wounding five persons, defying the authorities, and barricading himself in his home with a big supply of ammunition, Capt. William N. Donley ended the siege early today by blowing off the top of his head with an automatic shotgun at Babylon, L. I.

All night, Sheriff Charles J. Odell of Suffolk County, a dozen or more deputies and many of the men of Babylon were intrenched near Capt. Donley's home in Fire Island Avenue. Armed men in boats patrolled the bay.

HOW TO BE SLIM

If you are too fat and want to reduce your weight 15 or 20 pounds, don't starve and weaken your system, or think you must always be laughing at an account of your fat, but go to any good druggist and get a box of Oil of Kora capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself once a week and note what a pleasant and reliable method this is for removing superfluous fat from any part of the body.

It costs little, is absolutely harmless, and a week's trial should convince any one that it is unnecessary to be burdened with even a single pound of unhealthful fat.—Advt.

200 ARE VICTIMS OF POWDER BLAST IN ENGLISH PLANT

Big Blow-Up at Kent Declared
Accidental in Government Report.

LONDON, April 4.—The explosion of a powder factory in Kent has caused the death or injury of 200 persons, it was announced officially today.

The fire broke out at the end of last week, although official announcement was withheld until today. It was accompanied by a series of explosions lasting for two hours and of such violence that the sounds were heard in London.

The following statement was given out:

"The Ministry of Munitions reports with great regret that during the week-end a serious fire broke out in a powder factory, which led to a series of explosions in the works. The fire was purely accidental. It was discovered at midday and the last of the explosions took place shortly after 2 in the afternoon.

"The approximate number of casualties is 200."

The German Admiralty, in a report on the Zeppelin raid of last Friday night, asserted that fires were started in several munition factories near London. None of the localities mentioned in the German statement, however, were in the County of Kent, which adjoins London on the south-east.

owner; wounded in leg and face.

Capt. Donley seemed to suspect Boyne and Clunie of giving information about the duck hunt. He started his shooting by calling them to the door ostensibly to have them read a paper he handed them. Suddenly he produced a shotgun and shouted:

"I'm going to give you some of the medicine you've been giving me!"

Boyne knocked Donley down, and as the skipper fell his wife seized the shotgun and ran into the house. Donley pursued her, then returned to the ground floor and chased Boyne and Clunie with a revolver. They gave him battle, but Donley fired and a bullet ripped Boyne's right cheek, and Clunie fell with a bullet in his shoulder.

Donley then retreated to the house, and his wife, certain he had lost his mind, fled.

Meanwhile Mrs. Edwin Main Post sauntered past the Donley house. Donley, entering the house, had barred the door, and it then became apparent he had taken station in the upper floor. One shot after another cracked out of a second story window, and Mrs. Post fled.

Watts, a neighbor, then tried to approach the house and parley with Donley, but a rattle of shots took a piece out of the calf of his leg, and he quit the scene, limping in his flight.

Chief of Police Thomas Gallagher next arrived. He was accompanied by Policemen Morris. While they were pleading with him, Donley fired a shotgun at them. Policemen Morris, himself under fire, dragged his Chief, wounded in the leg and back, out of the way of the bullets.

After that a general alarm went out and Sheriff Charles Odell called together a dozen deputies; the police sent half a dozen men, and about two score citizens who volunteered to aid the Sheriff and police were enrolled. Several sallies were made toward the house. Each time came dozens of shots in return.

When Capt. Donley wasn't busy reloading, he engaged shotguns and revolvers in the work of smashing the windows and riddling the doorways of the houses of Clarence Gurnea and Capt. Watts, his nearest neighbors. Once he fired at a passing trolley car and another time shot out the headlight of an automobile.

Capt. Donley left a note, the contents of which the police have not given out. Also he left two other notes scribbled on cartridge boxes to his wife. They contained only expressions of affection and reiterations of his belief he had been "framed up" and persecuted.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

ROFRANO READY TO GIVE UP?

District Attorney Hears That Politician in Murder Case Is Back.

A report reached the District Attorney's office today that Mike Rofrano, former Deputy Superintendent of Street Cleaning, who fled from New York to escape arrest for inspiring the murder of Mike Dalmari, a lieutenant of Tom Foley, Tammany leader of the Second District, is in town and getting ready to give himself up. While the Foley following takes no stock in the statement Rofrano's friends believe it true.

The rumor first reached Assistant District Attorney Brothers through "Boss" Hanna, an attorney who said he had been approached by a person close to Rofrano. Then it was discovered that District Attorney Swann had been told the same thing. But no person has approached Judge Swann with negotiations for Rofrano's surrender. Police Headquarters also heard the report that Rofrano is in the city and detectives and police officers generally were galvanized into feverish activity. There is a reward of $5,000 for Rofrano's arrest.

COLLUSION CHARGED TO REVENUE AGENTS IN TOBACCO FRAUDS

Treasury Officials Investigate
Story That Men Were on Pay
Rolls of Manufacturers.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Treasury officials said today that Carl E. Whitney, a New York lawyer, had filed charges that a number of Deputy Internal Revenue Collectors in that city are involved in the recently discovered tobacco frauds. More than 100 Deputy Collectors are in New York, but only a part of the number are suspected of participation in frauds involving hundreds of cigars and cigarette manufacturers, in which the Government is believed to have lost $20,000,000 in uncollected internal revenue.

Mr. Whitney made his charges to Assistant Secretary Malburn, but declined to give the names of the deputies involved. He is counsel for some of the cigar manufacturers, and officials here understand he will use his information about the deputies if his clients are brought to trial. An investigation is being made by John Z. Lowe, Collector at New York.

According to Treasury officials Mr. Whitney charged that collectors have not only been receiving regular remittances weekly from manufacturers, but in some cases have approached those who were not evading the law, and pointed out the ease with which they could escape payment of revenue duties and offered to co-operate with them to this end for small considerations weekly.

The alleged frauds were unearthed, it was said today, through a transfer from New York to Philadelphia of a revenue agent stationed at New York for some time. He was succeeded by L. G. Nutt, who, after assuming office became acquainted with the alleged workings of the manufacturers and deputy collectors, and investigated.

Assistant Secretary Malburn made it clear today that the transferred agent was in no way involved, but that conditions in New York had simply escaped his notice.
